HORSE DRAGGED YOUNG MAN TO TERRIBLE DEATH

George Griffin Jr., of Near Granite. Dragged Several Hundred Yards Over Rough Road and Fields, Sustaining Injuries from which Death Followed. Accident Saturday Evening.

George Griffin Jr., of Straban township, was dragged several hundred yards by a runaway horse at his home near Granite Station Saturday evening sustaining injuries from which he died at two o'clock this morning. He was aged 22 years. The accident which resulted in the young man's death took place while his parents looked on, helpless to prevent it.

Mr. Griffin, with his father, had been in the fields in the afternoon and returning home they were entering the barn yard when the younger man threw his coat to the ground. The horse jumped forward and Mr. Griffin jumped to the ground. His one foot caught in the harness and the horse, taking fright, leaped ahead running full speed down the lane which is covered with large stones and which is exceedingly rough. The man was dragged behind, his head and body striking all along the road.

For some distance the horse ran on and then turned into a field making a wide circle and finally returning to the barn. The unfortunate man's clothing was all torn from his back and his body to his waist was a mass of raw flesh. His head was badly bruised and there was a large gash on his forehead in the skull.

The man's father and mother rushed to the horse when it re-entered the barn yard and tried to stop it but the animal went on to the barn before it could be stopped. It was with great difficulty that his body could be released from the harness, so badly was his foot tangled up in it. He was tenderly carried into the house and Dr. H. M. Hartman, of Gettysburg and Dr. C. E. Goldsborough, of Hunterstown, summoned.

They made a complete examination. It was apparent that the victim of the accident was suffering from a severe concussion of the brain, though no fracture of the skull was apparent. The wounds were dressed and the condition of his back alleviated. Everything possible was done for the injured man but he was beyond human aid and death followed at two o'clock this morning without consciousness having returned.

Surviving Mr. Griffin are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin, Sr., and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Grace Riddle, of Baltimore; Miss Daisy Griffin, Royston and Herbert, at home; and Carl Griffin, living on the farm of W. F. Gilliland in Straban township.

The body will be taken to Cockeysville, Maryland, on Wednesday morning for interment.

BUSHMAN—SEFTON

At 6:30 this morning Miss Hattie R. Sefton and Leo Bushman were united in marriage in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church. Miss Blanche Bushman, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Joseph Stock was best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bushman on the Baltimore pike. Both bride and groom are among Gettysburg's most popular young people. The bride is a daughter of Brady M. Sefton, of Steinwehr avenue, and Mr. Bushman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bushman, of near town. They will reside on the Baltimore pike a short distance North of the groom's home.

A reception will be given this evening at eight o'clock by the parents of the groom.

BITTEN BY DOG

A grandson of Mrs. Hockey, of near Seven Stars, was bitten in the face by a dog one day last week while playing with the animal. No treatment was given the wound for several days and it became quite sore. Dr. Hartman was finally visited and the wound attended to.

WANT GETTYSBURG PERMANENT SITE

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin Advocates Selection of this Place as Permanent Site for Army Manoeuvres. Annual Encampment.

The selection of Gettysburg as a permanent camp site for maneuvers under direction of the Regular Army is advocated by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. If such a course were adopted it would mean six weeks of encampment every Summer. On Saturday the Bulletin said in an editorial:

"The War Department is planning to assemble at Gettysburg the national guardsmen of the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey in conjunction with the regular forces of the Eastern division of the country. Within echoing distance of the graves of the men of both blue and gray, the men of arms of today will clash in mimic battle array."

"The two famous ridges—Cemetery and Seminary—will once again resound to the roar of artillery, and the now peaceful valley will swarm with troops."

"There has been an impression in National Guard circles in this State that the War Department will look with favor upon a site for a permanent maneuver camp in Pennsylvania. The two sites most generally spoken of are in the Pocono Mountains at Tobyhanna and at Mt. Gretna, where the State already has considerable military property. According to despatches from Washington, these grounds will be looked over by officers of the regular army this spring. Meanwhile, however, the War Department has selected Gettysburg as the rendezvous for the summer maneuvers of 1910. It may be that the inspiration of this great battle ground, in patriotic endeavor, will also go far to influence its final selection."

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

The churches of town generally observed Easter Sunday with appropriate services. In many instances the Sunday Schools rendered exercises in keeping with the day. All of the churches were decorated more or less and the church festival was kept in the usual manner.

The close of Lent was marked by a number of accessions to the membership of the churches of town. Forty eight new members were received in St. James Lutheran church, 27 by confirmation and 21 by letter and restoration. In the College Lutheran church eleven new members were received, two by baptism, three by confirmation and six by letter. The Reformed church had confirmation service on Palm Sunday while the Presbyterian and United Brethren churches will hold the service next Sunday.

The choir of the Episcopal church was vested for the first time on Easter Sunday. The Church of the Prince of Peace had its usual handsome floral decorations and the day was observed in the usual manner.

CHURCH OFFICERS ELECTED

The preparatory and confirmation service held Friday evening in St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbottstown, was very largely attended. Twelve persons were confirmed, and three persons received by letter. At conclusion of the service, an election for church officers was held, and the largest vote ever cast in the history of the congregation was polled. The election resulted in the choice of the following: trustee, Z. M. Craumer, elders, Charles Forry, Emanuel Stine, deacons, Charles Heilman, Guy Wolf.

ST. ELMO

For fifty years or so, "St. Elmo," Augusta J. Evans' novel has been one of the most read books by a native writer. It has always been regarded as a particularly charming romance of South. The incidents narrated in its pages have tempted the dramatist more than once and now comes the announcement that a new version has been put before the public. This latest is the work of Neil Twomey, an author of experience and a stage director of ability, who according to the management of the play has prepared a drama that will appeal to the fastidious theatre goer. The play is announced at the Walter Theatre on Wednesday, March 30.

CALL OF THE WILD

"Call of the Wild" a stirring American drama of the early days on the borders of civilization, a story of the days when might was right, and when the red men of the forest and the steadily encroaching white heroes were battling for supremacy in the great Northwest, comes to the Walter Theatre on next Monday, April 4, with Mr. Franklin Woodruff in the principal role. The story is very touching and replete with many strong situations.

FIRE IN WOODS NORTH OF TOWN

Government Property Burned over in Fire of Sunday Afternoon. Fence Burned. Flames Conquered by Small Army of Fighters.

Several acres of grass and timberland, with a quantity of fence were burned over North of town Sunday afternoon by fire which was probably started by sparks from a Reading railroad locomotive. The fire made thick volumes of smoke and large numbers of people from town went to the scene, many of whom did effective work in battling with the flames.

The blaze started on government land and burned rapidly west and north until it reached the woods belonging to the Wills estate. Here the dry trees fell easy prey to the flames and it was but a short time until the whole place was being consumed. A dense smoke arose and the fire from a distance looked very serious.

Many of the young men got to work with rakes and other implements and tried to beat out the flames. Water was carried from nearby wells and other means were used to put out the fire.

A large section of government fence was burned and it was with some little difficulty that the blaze at this point was checked. Aside from the damage to the woods the fire leaves behind it a very unsightly appearance on what was one of the most attractive sections north of town.

SHOULD BE SPRAYED

State Economic Zoologist Surface, who is now busily engaged in attending the public demonstrations in the model orchards of the State, has advised all owners of orchards to spray at once for San Jose scale or other pests.

Spring this year is about two weeks ahead of the average Spring and in order to save the trees before the buds burst and the blossoms open, Professor Surface says the work should be done now. He made up his schedule for the public meeting model orchard demonstrations with the view of reaching the orchards before the buds had burst. The season, however, has got ahead of the orchard inspectors who are holding the demonstrations in all parts of the State.

Professor Surface says that the owners of the public meeting orchards as well as others should not await the coming of the demonstrators. The spraying should be done now. In some orchards in low lying country the blossoms are now about open, and the State Zoologist advises spraying anyway. All of the public meetings will be held according to the schedule, Professor Surface says.

Another thing that Professor Surface brings to the attention of the farmers of the State is their lack of foresight in attending the demonstrations. Many of them go to the public meeting orchards in the morning and remain until after the demonstrations, which are usually held in the afternoon. Many of the farmers neglect to take their luncheon along for themselves, their families or their horses, and the owner of the public meeting orchard has to extend his hospitality to many of the guests in attendance at the meeting. This has proved a burden in some instances.

PROMISES BANNER WHEAT

Pennsylvania farmers sowed probably 100,000 acres more than usual in wheat last year and the Winter was distinctly favorable for the crop, said Deputy Secretary of Agriculture A. L. Martin, after a study of State crop reports.

"The reports I have at hand come from every county in the State and indicate that the wheat crop should be excellent. The Winter was one of the most favorable in twenty years for the preservation of wheat, as the snows were deep and prolonged. Even this month, which is generally the most disastrous of the whole year for wheat, has been ideal. I think it is the most favorable March for wheat I have ever known. There was plenty of snow early in the month and we have been fortunate in not experiencing alternate periods of thaw and freeze which tend to pull up the grain and break the tap roots."

"The reason why more wheat was sowed last year was largely due to the dry character of the Summer and Fall. Much corn failed to head and was cut down and used for fodder. In place of this grain there was much wheat sowed, many fields where corn had failed being drilled."

"In addition prices were good. The farmers of the State sowed approximately 1,000,000 acres of wheat."

DOUBLE TRACK

The Western Maryland Railway Company contemplates putting in service the additional track constructed between Baltimore and Emory Grove early next month and in the future all trains operated between the two points will use the double track instead of the single track as at present. The new improvement cost something in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

When the new double track portion of the road is put into operation the Western Maryland can boast of practically a double track system all the way to Highfield, Md., or at least it will be almost as effective as the two track system. The new double track, which has been completed, extends as far as Emory Grove. At this place the Western Maryland divides, one branch extending via, Gettysburg to Highfield, while the other diverges, touching Westminster and joining the old Baltimore and Harrisburg division at Highfield. Thus, according to the officials of the Western Maryland, the road gets the result of a double track system as far as the last named place.

MASSACHUSETTS' REVOLT

Election of Democratic Congressman Shows Dissatisfaction With Tariff.

Boston, March 28.—Such a tremendous overturn in Republican votes as was brought about last week through the election of Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, to congress, is regarded as especially dangerous to United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Not only has Foss won in the state's most solidly Republican district, but he piled up such a vote that the favorite resort of a beaten politician utterly fails to explain it. Congressman Lovering, deceased, whom Foss succeeded, in 1908 polled 20,959 votes, 6709 for Packard. Last Tuesday Foss polled 15,086, to 9469 for Buchanan.

Before the election was held the Republican state managers frankly told the voters of the Fourteenth district that if they did not elect Buchanan by substantially the usual plurality they should regard their action as imperiling the prestige of the party, not only in Massachusetts, but in congress.

It is not sufficient to say that Buchanan was unpopular and that Foss was popular. Buchanan's unpopularity was confined to a very few who had thought he did wrong in supporting a Democrat for governor when Douglas was elected; elsewhere he is extremely popular and very well known. Foss, on the other hand, is not even a permanent resident of the district, having only a summer home therein. Until last fall he was a Republican, but so much out of harmony with his party that he then publicly abandoned it and went over to the Democrats, running for lieutenant governor last November.

The only explanation of the action of the voters of the Fourteenth district is a revolt against the Republican party, mainly on the tariff question.

RAILROAD MEN TO MEET TAFT

Representatives of Lines of Three Countries to Gather.

Worcester, Mass., March 28.—Train service men of Worcester have completed arrangements for entertaining 10,000 or more railroad men from all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico on April 2 and 4. President Taft and the executive officers of the big systems of the east will form a reception committee. The assembly will be the first of its kind known in railroading in this country, and it has been arranged purely for social purposes.

Saturday, April 2, will be given up to receiving the visitors, Sunday there will be two mass meetings in Mechanics hall. President Taft, after passing part of the day in Millbury as the guest of his aunt, Miss Della J. Torrey, will be escorted to Worcester in the afternoon. He will hold a brief reception in Washburn hall, and will then go to Mechanics hall to deliver an address, which is expected to be a special message to the railroad men of the country.

TOO LAZY TO WORK

Convict Saws Off Fingers to Avoid Manual Labor.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 28.—Frank Garrison, a Platte county negro, who has served ten years of a seventeen year sentence for murder in the second degree, is giving the prison authorities some evidence of his ability to avoid work.

For nearly ten years Garrison worked in the saddle-tree shop. About two months ago he held his hand in front of a saw and deliberately sawed off the second finger of his right hand. This gave him admission to the hospital until Saturday, when he was returned to the shop. He had only been there a few hours when he sawed off the little finger of his left hand. He is now back in the hospital and seems proud of his ingenuity in avoiding work.

When he has entirely recovered he will be sent back to the same shop, and if he does not saw off all of his fingers in the seven years he must yet serve the prison officials hope to get some work out of him.

Third Similar Accident Fatal.

Middletown, N. Y., March 28.—After having lived sixty-three years with a deformity which had twice caused him serious injury, Henry Brien met death by a third accident similar to the other two. One leg was a little shorter than the other, and he wore a high heel. Twice he had fallen downstairs through his heel catching, and each time he sustained a broken leg. This time his heel caught on a step and he fell the full length, sustaining a fractured skull and a broken jaw. He died within an hour.

Gun Exploded on Cruiser.

Manila, March 28.—It is reported that a gun on the cruiser Charleston exploded while she was at target practice in Olongapo bay. Eight men were killed or wounded. The cruiser is returning to Cavite.

Dragged Over Cliff by Kite.

San Francisco, March 28.—Entangled in the cord of a monster kite which he was flying, William Fletcher, seventeen years old, was dragged over a cliff on Telegraph hill, and fell 350 feet to his death.

Tonsiline Prevents Diphtheria

Sore Throat—nature's danger signal. At the appearance of Sore Throat the first thought should be its quick cure. Don't regard it lightly—don't think it may be gone tomorrow. An hour's delay may bring fatal results.

What good doctor in his practice now advises delay or thinks lightly of any Sore Throat, especially in children?

Modern medication wisely endeavors to quickly control and cure the simpler forms of disease—it's so much easier and so much safer than waiting for the graver diseases to follow.

It is right here and in this way that TONSILINE has its greatest value.

Tonsiline will positively cure the Sore Throat and thereby prevent the dread disease—Diphtheria.

Tonsiline is the one remedy, sold largely throughout the United States, exclusively for the cure of Sore Throats. Its field is limited but it does its whole duty every time. TONSILINE has justly earned the success it has achieved as a Sore Throat Cure.

Buy a bottle today and have it ready for instant use.

Headache For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them, and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL,
63 High st., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

FASHION SHOW AT ATLANTIC

200,000 in Easter Parade on the Boardwalk.

WAS A BEAUTIFUL DAY

Handsomely Gowned Women Crowded the Great Wooden Way by the Sea. Huge Floral Display.

Atlantic City, March 28.—Over 200,000 promenaders were on the Boardwalk Sunday. Five thousand rolling chairs formed two solid lines from the Inlet to the Chelsea ends of the Boardwalk, while the overflow of strollers on the beach gave the strand the appearance of midsummer. The temperature mounted into the 70s, under perfectly clear skies, and scores of bathers took dips in the surf.

Nothing like the flood of travel has ever been seen at this resort. Forty long trains came in over the Pennsylvania system alone, and for the first time in the history of the city the full complement of incoming visitors from New York and Philadelphia had been delivered from arriving trains when the first flight of the homeward bound started to secure seats in outgoing trains, which were run without regard to schedule and less than fifteen minutes apart. Railroad officials were too busy to tally up figures, but it is believed that at least 100,000 new arrivals came in during the day.

Weather Was Perfect.

Weather conditions were the best known of Easter days for ten years past. Brilliant sunshine, with a stirring southerly breeze, started the Boardwalk pageant in the morning, and the Boardwalk was filled to a greater or less degree until late at night.

Visitors regretfully snatched minutes from their parade to secure meals and late comers protested when informed by employees of big hotels that they could not secure table places. Dignified parties were forced back to quick lunch places, whose owners all reaped an unexpected harvest. Small hotels and boarding houses were filled to their roofs, while every desirable room vacated by homebound people was snatched up by patiently waiting newcomers.

The crowd that turned out was lavishly gowned and suited. Flower hats covered with bunches of blooms gave the boardwalk the appearance of an elongated flower garden, while vests and cravats of the men added another collective splash of color to the turnout. Wraps of all sorts were laid aside throughout the day, and hardly a score of promenaders appeared without some sort of new sartorial fittings.

Nearly 300 automobiles came in during the night and the city streets were jammed into service to provide the necessary room for the big cars.

Stunning women were to be seen on every side, and most of the costumes evinced much careful thought and planning, for the ensemble in many cases was perfect.

Ballroom Gowns In Parade.

Other women appeared on the Boardwalk in gowns which might have appeared in some ballroom with more propriety. They were of the palest-hued silks or satins, or perhaps of white lace, made absolutely decolette, and trimmed with jewels and studded ribbons. One parasol was displayed, and only one. It was of a brilliant green, and made in the new square shape. Its owner, no doubt, was afraid of harm befalling her treasure and held it about three feet above her head, the effect in a dense crowd being extremely unusual and quaint.

Chanteur hats were not the rage, whatever Dame Fashion may have decreed, for they appeared but seldom. One brilliant affair, which was decorated with a huge parrot with wings outstretched, and perched upon the top of a bright yellow straw hat, created quite a sensation.

Of course, Easter without flowers would not be Easter, and everywhere one looked a great mass of blooms, a riot of color and fragrance, formed a part of the great picture.

IN THE VOLCANO ZONE

Street Scene in Catania, and Mount Etna in Distance.

ETNA'S LAVA FLOW BEGINS TO SUBSIDE

Believe Craters Are Blocked and Expect Explosion.

Catania, March 28.—The eruption of Mount Etna is subsiding. The lava is now flowing at the rate of only three yards an hour. Much snow fell in the upper regions of the mountains. The temperature fell to four degrees below zero. The heat from the incandescent lava causes ascending air currents, provoking a succession of violent whirlwinds, laden with volcanic ashes, which increase the desolation. Trees in the paths of these whirlwinds are snapped off or torn up by the roots.

Frank Perrett, of Brooklyn, assistant director of the Royal Observatory on Mount Vesuvius, who with difficulty reached the neighborhood of some of the craters, says the emission of lava has almost stopped, but he is of the opinion that the eruption has not yet ended. The craters are still active, but are so choked with lava that they cannot expel it until the internal pressure increases. If this happens there may be a much more violent eruption than has hitherto occurred.

On the hilltops little groups of men, women and children can be seen looking back sadly to the sites of their former homes, now covered with lava to a height of perhaps fifteen feet.

ROOSTER LAYS EGGS

Hen With Male Markings Fooled Poultry Experts.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28.—The Cornell hen that lays red and white eggs has been sent to the background by a rooster that lays eggs, and big ones at that.

The poultry experts at the state agricultural college received this remarkable bird from F. R. Glover, of Lisle, N. Y., who was so impressed by the masculine markings of the fowl that he cut off the comb and wattles and spurs, thinking it to be a game rooster. About this time the rooster laid an egg, startling the poultry man so that he packed him off to Cornell. On the way here another egg was laid.

Superintendent Crum and Professor Rogers, the poultry experts, have decided that the rooster is a female after all, but both assert that they have never seen so noticeable a case of a female bird with male markings.

STRANGE KIDNAPING TALE

York Youth Claims He Was Kept a Prisoner For Three Months.

York, Pa., March 28.—Kidnapped three months ago, Harry Bushy, aged twenty-two years, was kept a prisoner in an old mill since that time, according to a story which he told his parents upon his return home. Bushy has been missing for three months, having disappeared mysteriously.

He says that he had gone to the barn one night and was there rendered unconscious by a blow on the head. He was then taken to a mill by his unknown assailants, where he was kept a prisoner and fed on bread and water. Saturday night his jailers gave him a narcotic, which put him to sleep, and Sunday morning he awoke at the same spot where he had been kidnapped.

Taft Goes to New York.

Washington, March 28.—President Taft left this city at noon for New York, where tonight he is to be the guest of Yale, '78, his old class, at a dinner at the University club. The president will make no address or at least will make none for publication, since the class dinner is to be strictly private.

Sympathetic Strike Declared Off.

Philadelphia, March 28.—By unanimous vote, the Central Labor union declared off the general sympathetic strike which was called more than three weeks ago as a measure to aid the striking carmen of the Rapid Transit company, and directed all men who went out at that time to return to their work this morning. The strike of the carmen, however, is to be prosecuted vigorously.

A DOUBLE DIVIDEND FROM FOWLS AND FRUIT.

If you are after a double dividend on a single investment, don't speculate in Wall street. Try fowls and fruit on the same ground and you'll get it.

Isn't it a pretty picture to see a flock of snow white fowls in a shady, fragrant, blossoming apple orchard, where the bees buzz, birds sing, hens cackle and cocks crow in unison?

How comical are the gambols of a drove of downy ducklings dancing for bugs among the rows of the heavily laden plum trees! When you market fowls and fruit you have a double profit, and the fruit end is so easy and the trees make your property pretty and increase its value.

Fowls and fruit are mutually beneficial. The trees afford beneficial shade to poultry and furnish worms, insects and waste fruit for food.

Fowls keep many insects and worms from the trees, loosen the ground about the roots and furnish them the best fertilizer, so that the fruit is of a finer quality and often double in quantity. Trees that only ordinarily bear every other year have been known to bear large crops of fine fruit annually when planted in poultry yards. Little chicks thrive no better than when running among bush fruits, such as raspberries and currants, and they help the plants.

Grapevines along permanent poultry yard fences furnish necessary shade and pay profit. We find pears and plums the best paying poultry yard fruit. The Bartlett and Seckel pears sell best, while for plums our choice is the Abundance, Burbank, Reine Claude and Bradshaw.

Next in profit are apples. The best payers with us are the Astrakhan, Smokehouse, Baldwin, Newton Pippin and Wealthy.

For cherries we plant Schmidt's and Napoleon Bigarrea. Early Richmond and English Morello, while for peaches we select Crawford and Elberta, and our best quince is the Bourgeat.

Here is a delightful side issue that furnishes the family fruit, beautifies and enriches the property and often pays the poultry feed bills, and with only a small expenditure of money, time and labor.

Time trees are cheap, and after the planting there is not much to do but to pick the fruit, sell it and pocket the cash.

CATARRHAL ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER

Ten of thousands of sufferers from hay fever and catarrhal asthma find great comfort and quick relief by breathing Hyomei.

Of course where asthma is not caused by catarrhal conditions, but by nervous contraction of the bronchial tubes, Hyomei is not recommended.

But in case of asthma where there is a discharge of mucous, breathing Hyomei gives most wonderful relief by soothing the irritated and highly inflamed membrane.

Mr. W. A. White, R. F. D. No. 11, Evansport, writes: "I have been bothered with asthma for over five years but could not get any relief until I tried Hyomei. I have spent lot of money on remedies for asthma and if I could not get another bottle I would not be without Hyomei for $50. I recommend it."

A complete Hyomei outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 with instructions for use in hay fever and asthma. Extra bottles of Hyomei cost 50 cents at drugists everywhere and at The People's Drug Store.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Finally I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. BANKERS BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Sensation Expected in Pittsburgh Graft Probe.

BOODLERS HELD CAUCUSES

For Years Crooked Councilmen Met Weekly to Set Price For Passing Ordinances—Huge Graft in Railroad Passes.

Pittsburg, March 28.—Another sensation is expected when the directors of the national banks which hold city deposits are called before the court and grand jury and asked to tell what they know about their banks paying cash to councilmen to secure city deposits.

In the pursuance of the graft investigation it was uncovered that for some years grafting members of the Pittsburgh councils, about sixty in number, met weekly in the parlors of a big downtown hotel, and there behind closed doors discussed what had been offered by certain firms for the passage of certain ordinances, what should be charged, etc. This weekly meeting was called the "caucus," and was attended by all former members of councils who are now in the toils.

Invited Reporters to Graft Caucus. Councilman John Klein was secretary of the caucus, and President William Brand, of common councils, was chairman. So bold were the movements of this party of councilmen that invitations were sent to newspapers to have reporters wait on the officers of the caucus after adjournment. In order that news of "interest to the public" might be secured. It is now believed that threatened publicity was frequently held over the heads of victims by the "caucus" in order that high priced bargains might be made for real money consideration.

"We dare them to arrest us. If arrested we will take a whole trainload of those big fellows to the penitentiary with us," was the bold joint statement made by Bookkeeper Charles Veverka and Teller Harry Muehlbronner, of the Workingmen's Savings and Trust company, some months ago, when it had been practically common knowledge that the bank with which they had been connected was short about $70,000 through them. That this pair knew something and did not intend to go to the Riverside penitentiary without making a hard fight and taking some others along with them was shown Saturday when they were called for sentence in court. They gave the court privately some reasons why they did not think they should be sent to the penitentiary. The court suspended sentences in the case of both.

Bank Directors Are Ill.

Veverka and Muehlbronner were arrested some time after they had made the open boast, but the claim is made that they were not taken into custody until long after the directorate had been informed as to their shortages, etc. Even then the arrests were not made at the instance of the bank directorate, but by a bonding company which had guaranteed the two employees. The quiet statement made by the two employees was sufficient to keep them out of the penitentiary, and it is announced that they will appear before the grand jury and tell what they know about the inside workings of the Workingmen's Savings and Trust company in connection with securing the city deposits. Several members of this directorate who have been told to come before the grand jury and the court are reported as very ill.

Graft in Railroad Passes.

That the Pennsylvania railroad was beaten out of $500,000 a year by Pittsburgh councilmen alone through passes some years ago started the agitation which resulted later in laws against the issuing of transportation by any railroad. The Pennsylvania made the claim that it was losing $500,000 a year throughout its system in the issuing of passes, and one-tenth of this was charged up to Pittsburgh. It develops now what some of the grafting councilmen who are now in trouble made thousands of dollars yearly by the sale of passes. Not content with a few passes at a time, the councilmanic grafters insisted on and secured great books of passes and sold them at one-half the regular rate charged by the railroad.

Wu to Formulate Treaty With U. S.

St. Petersburg, March 28.—A dispatch to the Retch from Mukden says that Wu Ting Fang, lately Chinese minister to the United States, is going to Washington to formulate an American-Chinese treaty, the principle of which has already been agreed upon. One clause provides that if China is subject to an aggressive attack the United States will help her with her navy.

Twenty-one Autos Burned.

Cairo, Egypt, March 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt observed Easter Sunday with a rest from receptions and formal functions. He attended church, and for the remainder of the day he was a family guest of the sirdar of Egypt, Sir Francis Reginald Wingate.

Colonel Roosevelt with his family drove unostentatiously from Sheppard's hotel to the American church and, although the church was crowded to the doors, the colonel's evident desire for no demonstration was respected.

After the services he was escorted by a squadron of cavalry to the bungalow of the sirdar, where he and his family spent the remainder of the day, dining informally with them.

MINING STRIKE AVERTED

New Committee Brings Wage Conference Near Agreement.

Cincinnati, March 28.—After the strike specter had made a rather dark appearance here, the pendulum swung the other way when a committee from the joint conference of miners and operators of Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania was appointed to again endeavor to come to some agreement.

This committee is an entirely new one, and statements from those high in authority indicate that an agreement is certain to be reached and that Ohio will concede to the 5 cents a ton increase now asked by the miners.

The action taken at the convention of the United Mine Workers of America to allow district agreements appeared to do away with a general strike and confine it to certain localities, but the later move by the joint conference is believed to be even better than the convention's action, inasmuch as it now appears an agreement between all parties concerned will be reached.

FAIRBANKS IMPROVED

Former Vice President is Suffering From a Severe Cold.

Indianapolis, March 28.—Former Vice President Fairbanks, whose condition gave his friends considerable alarm, is much improved, and unless looked for complications appear he will be out in a few days. His physicians say that there is now very little if any indication of congestion of the lungs, and while his cold is an unusually heavy one and his throat is affected they think with careful nursing and an even temperature that the patient will convalesce rapidly.

DANCE AS MOTHER BURNS

Two Little Children Thought It Fine Sight to See Parent in Flames.

Hagerstown, Md., March 28.—Two of her little children danced gleefully about her, apparently thinking it a fine sight, while Mrs. Howard Myers, twenty-six years of age, burned to death in the yard of her home at Smoketown, this county.

Mrs. Myers was burning rubbish while her three children played nearby. The mother's dress caught fire. The oldest child, with some realization of the horror, ran for help, but Mrs. Myers was dead before the first of the neighbors reached her.

AN AGREEMENT ON THE TARIFF

Trade War Between Canada and U. S. Averted.

RESULT OF CONFERENCE

It Is Believed Canada Made Concessions and New Rates Will Form Basis of a Reciprocity Treaty.

Washington, March 28.—An agreement has been reached between Canada and the United States respecting the adjustment of the tariffs of both countries.

No one in authority here is willing to discuss the details, but there is good ground for the belief that concessions have been granted by Canada and that the United States will receive in return for its minimum the intermediate rates given by Canada to France and twelve other countries on some articles in which exporters from the United States are specially interested.

This understanding is said to have been reached after a prolonged conference, participated in by President Taft, W. S. Fielding, Canadian minister of finance; George P. Graham, Canadian minister of railways; Secretary Knox and Charles N. Pepper, of the bureau of trade relations of the state department.

U. S. Accepts Concessions.

Under the existing treaty between Canada and France the latter country receives the conventional rate on about ninety articles. As to many of these, however, the United States has little or no interest, and there is reason to believe that this government has consented to receive the intermediate rate on much less than half that number. To avoid a tariff war the administration was willing to accept a few concessions as a basis for giving Canada the minimum tariff.

Possibility of a temporary breach in tariff relations with Canada, owing to the expiration next Thursday of the period allowed by the Payne-Aldrich act for the making of such arrangements, was at one time regarded as very close. But it is now said that it will not be necessary to consume time in the Canadian parliament in giving the arrangement vitally by legislative enactment for the reason that it can be put in operation at once by an order in council, which is likely to be the course followed.

Although the details of the arrangement are refused at this moment, it is understood that it was concluded upon the basis of future negotiations between the United States and Canada for a general trade treaty between the two countries.

This is contrary, however, to the theory of the Aldrich minimum and maximum tariff system and may be opposed in the senate.

Up to this time 102 nations and their dependencies, by proclamation of the president, have been granted our minimum rates, and this leaves only about twelve countries on which action is still to be taken. The most important of these is Canada.

BURIED WITHOUT A CASKET

Aged Man's Strange Request Heeded at His Funeral.

Laurel, Del., March 28.—When the remains of William Myles Boyce, the Broad Creek farmer and wit who died suddenly last Wednesday, were laid away in the Pepper burying ground a novel idea was carried out. Many years ago Boyce told William Sautsbury Holt, an undertaker, he wanted him to bury him, but without a coffin. "I want my grave dug not too deep, and cemented tight," said the aged man. "Then I want a nice mattress and a pillow placed in. Then, when you are sure that I am dead, place me on the cot and wrap me up and there let me rest, and I don't want any fuss about it, either. Mind you, if you don't do as I tell you I will come back and haunt you just as sure as the devil is a Dutchman."

Undertaker Holt had forgotten all about the strange request until he was called to prepare Boyce for burial. When he asked the four sons what kind of a casket they wanted they replied that their father had told how he wanted to be buried. Then Holt recalled the talk of long ago. But as one of the sons demurred, a compromise was agreed upon and the body was laid on a cot, which was placed in a mahogany box.

Switchmen Get a Raise.

Chicago, March 28.—The officials of twelve railroads voluntarily granted to Chicago switchmen affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen an additional increase in wages of 1 cent an hour over the scale granted by the Illinois state board of arbitration. By the terms of this agreement the Brotherhood switchmen will receive the same wage rate as that granted by the federal board of arbitration to the members of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

He Sneezed

By ANNIE SCHRIEBER

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"My dear," said Count Rumsdorf to his wife, "I feel that today I shall be in presence of a great danger."

"Oh, husband!" exclaimed the wife. "Why then go to the palace? Stay at home today."

"Do, papa," pleaded his little daughter.

"That would not avail. Fate does not relinquish her designs against us because we change our usual course. We cannot hide from her."

Wife and child both clung to him. Only a sense of duty and a manliness that refused to flee from what he tried to call a superstition enabled this husband and father to tear himself away from those he adored and leave them trembling and with tears in their eyes to listen all day for the distant bomb they dreaded.

There is another side to this story. What Count Rumsdorf considered superstition was what we in America call a presentiment. There are people who deny that any coming event will cast its shadow before. There has been an age of dreams and forecasts, and there has been an age of doubt in such claim. Now we have societies of psychical research that are studying them scientifically.

Two attempts to assassinate Count Rumsdorf had failed. Once conspirators had lain in wait for him when he was expected to drive over a bridge across the Neva. On that occasion he was detained at home with a cold. Again, when he was expected to go to Berlin on behalf of his sovereign for a conference with the emperor of Germany they had mined the track. But the trip had been abandoned.

A third attempt had been arranged for this day with so much forethought and provision for unforeseen obstacles that it seemed to those who planned it nothing could save the man they plotted against. Indeed, one of them said, "If the minister escapes us this time we shall consider that his guardian angel protects him and he is proof against our attempts." But there is a saying, "The third time is the charm," and if Count Rumsdorf had known of the preparations made to kill him he would have had not only a presentiment, but would have considered that by going over his expected route he would be lost.

The intention was to shoot him as he drove from the palace to his home, which he always did at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Two men armed with revolvers of a heavy caliber were to fire at him from a first floor window of a house located in a street through which he usually passed. Two others similarly armed were to fire at him from a window opposite, a trifle farther on. The last two were intended to finish the job in case the first two missed. A fifth man was stationed in the street who was to signal the approach of the intended victim. None of the men who were to fire at the count were to show themselves till they received a signal from the man in the street that his carriage was near them.

The street was narrow, and he would be obliged to pass within half a dozen yards of either of the windows where lurked firing parties. Their keeping back out of sight precluded the possibility of their intention being suspected and a warning being given the minister. The man in the street would signal the exact moment when they were to make ready, and on hearing the rumble of a carriage they would go to the window and fire at the occupant. If any mishap prevented the first two from doing the work the second two were in reserve for its accomplishment.

At half past 3 in the afternoon the two firing parties stationed themselves at their respective windows. The signaler walked about till he should see the count's carriage coming. This was that he should not attract attention by remaining at the exact spot where the conspirators were to look for his signal, which was to be the waving of his handkerchief.

The day was cold and blustery. Four o'clock came, but not the count. The signaler was on watch every instant. At fifteen minutes past 4 he experienced a symptom of catching cold. He sneezed violently. Taking out his handkerchief, the strong wind blew it from his fingers, and it went sailing down the street. Its owner ran after it. At that moment the count's carriage turned a corner not a block away. The signaler ran back to his post and endeavored to give the signal without the handkerchief—that is, by frantic gesticulation.

The men in the first window, thinking that he meant to warn them against an impending danger—that some one had peached and the police were coming to arrest them—scurried out of the house by the back door. The men in the second window, seeing their flight, also ran away. Only the sneezing signaler stood his ground.

At half past 4 the count drove up to his house and alighting, was clasped in the arms of his wife and daughter.

"Never again," said the count, "shall I place any faith in my feelings that some danger hangs over me."

The next morning, however, he was handed a note. It read:
You are protected by your angel. Three times we have tried to kill you and three times have failed. This afternoon we were to have received a signal when you passed us—the wave of a handkerchief. Your angel made our signaler sneeze. He took out his handkerchief to signal us, and the wind blew it away. We shall not try again.

One should never buy from unknown parties so far away from home that he cannot reach them with a club in way of recourse in case the stuff he gets is not satisfactory. Many who bite on the low price bait forget this fact sometimes and can only grind their teeth when disappointed.

Nebraska is going through the usual change from a grain raising to a stock and dairy state, as shown by her output last year of 30,000,000 pounds of butter. This is not a large output of butter as compared with some other states, but it is a very creditable showing and indicates a move in the right direction.

Have Your Deeds Recorded

By an Act of Assembly of 1893, "All Deeds and Conveyance" shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution, or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers. Also the Act of Assembly of 1909, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid." It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by having them recorded, and costs but a small sum, compared to getting a new deed.

Bring or send them into the Recorder's office and in a few days they will be returned to you.

FOR THE SAKE OF OTHERS

Considers it her Duty to Tell.

I write this for publication, with the hope that it will influence others who suffer as I did to try the great Root Juice remedy, the wonderful medicine has done so much good for me that I feel it my duty to tell it. For years I spent a life of misery, but thanks to the great discovery. I am now free from every ache or pain. I, like many others, was very skeptical when the papers told of the many hundreds of cures Root Juice was making, but after seeing several people that were using it I concluded to try it, although I felt that every organ of my body was almost worn out. My liver was torpid, my kidneys were weak and my stomach was in a horrible condition. At times it felt like it was full of rocks. A great deal of gas formed and I had weak spells frequently and was badly constipated. My appetite was very poor and even in hot weather my hands and feet were cold. I was using some kind of medicine most of the time, without much benefit. After taking the juice a few days I began to improve. I have used four bottles and am feeling better than I have for twenty years, and I believe the remedy has permanently cured me. Mrs. A. Colbert, R. R. No. 7, Ft. Wayne, Ind. The great remedy has done worlds of good here as any one can learn by calling at the People's drug store. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle or three for $2.50.

This is the way Louis Joseph Vance's thrilling detective story, "The Brass Bowl," impresses the reader. It starts off like an 80 horse power racing auto, and keeps up the pace. It is the most exciting detective story since the days of Poe and Gaboriau. Gee! whiz! how he keeps it going! There are things doing all the time. And running all through this sparkling book is the prettiest love story you ever read. The New York Sunday World is going to give this story free in 20,000 word installments during the next five weeks. It begins next Sunday, April 3. Get in line. Edition limited. Stetson's Advice as to Where They Might Possibly Be Found.

John Stetson used to have a vaudeville house in Philadelphia, and he inaugurated there the custom which prevails now in some of the cheaper theaters of taking a performer off in the middle of the turn if he did not please the patrons in front. Every Monday night opened his house with fifteen acts, and as each one went on he stood in the wings and allowed those in front to decide whether it should be retained on the bill.

Sometimes the people in front would cry, "Take him off, John; he's no good," and Stetson would march out on the stage and drag the performer off, give him $10 for his performance and tell him he need not return. One evening there were two men who seemed especially obnoxious to the audience, who greeted them with cat-calls and howling derision. They managed, however, to get through with their song and came off the stage nervously preparing to return for the remainder of their act.

"Here, you," shouted John Stetson, "what was the name of that song?"

"What's that to you?" asked one of the singers.

"It may be something to you," answered Stetson, with a few of the curse words for which he was noted. "I'm John Stetson, and I want to know the name of that song."

"Beg pardon, Mr. Stetson," said the crestfallen variety man. "It is called 'Where Are the Friends of Our Youth?'"

"Well, you didn't seem to find them out in front. Take this $10 and go and hunt them on the outside."
